Earn a Master's Degree in English in two years, and prepare yourself for a future in teaching, publishing, writing, or academia. Tracks are available in:

- Literary Studies
- Publishing and Print Culture
- Writing Studies
- Literature Language and Culture.

Why UMD

The Master's in English Program at the University of Minnesota Duluth is ideally suited to students who are looking for smaller-sized classes, high-quality instruction, and close interaction with graduate faculty—in a spectacular natural setting.

Career Possibilities

To find out what our recent graduates are doing, see the Career and Internship Services Report: Follow-up of Majors

Requirements

In addition to the general application instructions provided by the Graduate School, visit the English program page for specific application instructions and deadlines related to the program. Also visit the catalog requirements page linked above for additional information.

[1] mailto:engl@d.umn.edu