Integrated Elementary and Special Education B.A.Sc.

Major
Bachelor of Applied Science Education
College of Education and Human Service Professions

Students in grades K-12 have a broad spectrum of needs in the classroom. The Bachelor of Applied Science (B.A.Sc.) in Integrated Elementary and Special Education (IESE) gives you the tools necessary to serve these students and their families with integrity. The degree qualifies students to apply for state licensure to teach K-6 general elementary education and K-12 special education (mild to moderate) in the areas of:

- learning disabilities
- emotional behavior disorders
- autism spectrum
- developmental cognitive delay

When you have successfully completed the IESE program, students apply for state licensure to teach K-6 elementary education and K-12 special education (Academic Behavioral Strategist).

Acquired Skills

- Build positive relationships with other teachers, parents, families, and other adults.
- Engage students in active learning.
- Plan and teach effective lessons that address the varying needs of the children they are working with in both regular and special education settings.

Career Possibilities

Entry level positions include Elementary Education Teacher, Special Education Teacher and Tutoring Services. Advanced degree positions include Dean of Students, Principal, Academic Advisor, and School Counselor.
