Why UMD

The undergraduate minor in environmental and outdoor education provides students with core knowledge in theories and practices that are necessary to work in non-formal outdoor educational settings such as nature centers, city, state, or national parks, and for commercial agencies in the area of health and wellness.

Sample Courses:
- Teaching and Learning
- Field Interpretive Techniques I
- Teaching Outdoor Skills I

Links
[1] mailto:dahs@d.umn.edu